PICKS OF THE WEEK

Read of the Week

The Master and Margarita is a novel by author Mikhail Bulgakov, woven around the premise of a visit by the Devil to the fervently atheistic Soviet Union.

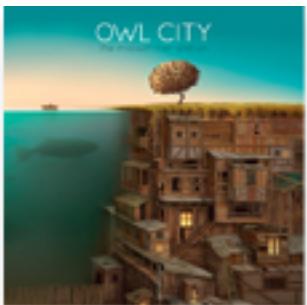

Movie of the Week

ParaNorman takes part in the small New England town of Blithe Hollow, Massachusetts, a boy named Norman Babcock is able to speak with the dead including his late grandmother and various ghosts in town. Unfortunately, almost no one among the living believes his ability is genuine and he is ostracized by his family while being ridiculed and bullied by most of his peers for his seemingly strange abilities.

Album of the Week

Nocturne is the sophomore album of Wild Nothing, an American dream pop act created by Jack Tatum in late 2009.

Organization of the Week

Project Haiti Orphanage and Children's Center is about the people of Haiti who are facing ongoing devastation following the earthquake of January 2010. It's about a replicable, resilient model for rebuilding.
